I am a Birth Parent
I placed a child for adoption:

Before January 31, 2020	After January 31, 2020
I can file a: • Disclosure Veto • Contact Preference Because I placed a child for adoption BEFORE the Adoption Records were open.	I can file a: • Contact Preference Because I placed a child for adoption AFTER the Adoption Records opened.
I have one year to file one of the above documents before my identifying information can be released by Post-Adoption Services upon request of an adoptee beginning on January 31, 2021.	I can file a contact preference at anytime to explain if I want to be contacted or how I want to be contacted if the adoptee was to receive my identifying information.
I will still have the option to file one of the above documents after Adoption Records open; however, if my identifying information was requested before I did so, I would risk my information already being released.
If the person I placed for an Adoption is still a minor, I am unable to request their identifying information until they turn 19 years old (unless they have filed a Disclosure Veto).	Once the person I placed for adoption turns 19 years old, I may request their identifying information. However, if there is a contact preference on file, I must sign an undertaking to state that I will follow the contact preference.

Services that I am always entitled to:

• Non-Identifying background Information
• Registration on the Post-Adoption Registry
• Active Search for a birth child
